

Research-Based-Art and Graphic Novels

Dr. Sherine Hamdy, a medical anthropologist at the University of California, Irvine, will share her knowledge about the use of graphic novels to disseminate research to broad audiences. She is also the editor of the EthnoGRAPHIC anthropological graphic novel series at University of Toronto Press. Her recent graphic novel is Lissa: A Story about Medical Promise, Friendship, and Revolution.

Mon. February 24

WHEN: 4:30 PM - 6:00 PM

Commons Room

WHERE: Honors College

MODERATORS:

Dr. Manal
Hamzeh (IDS/G&SS)
and Dr. Mary Alice
Scott (ANTH)

Sponsors: Departments of ANTH, IDS/G&SS, ART, CMI
Colleges of Honors and Arts & Sciences